About Us

We are a group of University students (some current, some former) who have gotten together to solve an issue we have all faced. Transparency in the job market for students and graduates. We want to offer students the full picture. We do this by publishing annual guides that provides students with the necessary insights and overview.

We also want to move beyond the obvious, and often generic, job and company descriptions. We want to go one level deeper to truly understand the people that work there and get the insights that really matters when graduates make decisions on what companies to work for
